WAYNE W. SELL HIRES NEW SAFETY DIRECTOR

New team member added at Wayne W. Sell Corporation

PITTSBURGH, PA – January 1, 2014 – Wayne W. Sell Corporation (Wayne Sell), a leader in the transportation of flat, van and bulk commodities across the Midwest and North East, today announced the hiring of a new Safety Director. As the company continues to grow, and in an effort to keep “safety and compliance” a top priority, it was decided that adding a new Safety Director would be beneficial.

The new Safety Director at Wayne W. Sell Corp. is Barry Gaston. He is a veteran of the law enforcement community, having worked for 25 years with the Pennsylvania State Police. His experience includes ensuring public safety and safe driving, commercial truck safety and compliance, and accident investigation. Barry also has a vast knowledge of accident reconstruction, and has worked closely with PENNDOT. His experience is very well suited for the job of Safety Director at a trucking company.

“I look forward to the positive changes I believe Barry will bring to our company,” said John Sell, president of Wayne Sell. Barry has extensive knowledge of the relationship between law enforcement and the transportation industry, and will be a valuable addition to the company. “We have always worked hard to operate as safely as possible, but we are constantly striving to be better. I am confident that our new Safety Director will be able to help us to achieve this goal.”

Wayne W. Sell Corporation welcomes Barry Gaston to the team. The company feels he is a very good match for the position, and looks forward to the positive changes that will come from his extensive experience and knowledge in the area of safety.
